STRATEGIC PLAYER DEVELOPMENT

COURSE DESCRIPTION
This course examines issues related to the holistic development of athletes. Topics to be examined include player safety, personal development, mental preparation, academic performance, team cohesion, and off-the-field conduct.

RATIONALE
Effective coaches do more than prepare players with the physical skills and strategies necessary for competition—they develop an atmosphere in which players work together to win contests, achieve academically, and become strong community members. This kind of holistic player development requires an understanding of, and a commitment to, mental, academic, and character-related factors.
