PRINCIPLES OF MUSIC AND WORSHIP PEDAGOGY

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course is designed to examine the planning development, organization, implementation and evaluation of Worship Pedagogy for secondary, post-secondary, and college students. Attention is given to historical concepts of pedagogy, current trends in curriculum organization, available resources for the teaching and training of worship leaders, and strengths and weaknesses of various worship pedagogy models. Includes a graduate level curriculum project.

RATIONALE

Since 2005, scores of new secondary programs of worship have been started in colleges and universities across the country. These programs are strategically designed to equip men and women as teachers, singers, producers, pastors, evangelists, Internet technicians, audio and visual specialists, worshipers, artists, counselors, and skilled musicians. In an effort to meet the demand of filling these teaching positions, this course teaches the learner how to set up and administrate Christian high school and undergraduate college worship degree programs through an understanding of principles of worship pedagogy and instruction in biblical foundations of worship, theology, philosophy and methodology of worship, preparation in practical worship and music presentation, application of principles in secondary education to the various worship, design and development of worship curriculum, and principles of praxis music education.
